Section 16

The orders of clients shall not be binding if these are contrary to legal or professional regulations; a lawyer shall be obliged to reasonably notify his clients of this principle.

(2) A person who does not fulfil requirements to have a lawyer appointed by court under special legislation to act in his case^{7c)} and cannot secure provision of legal services otherwise (hereinafter referred to as “applicant”), shall have, upon a timely application, the right to have his lawyer appointed for:

- a) legal consultations under s. 18a, or
- b) legal services under s. 18c.

Section 18a

(1) An applicant whose average monthly income does not exceed, for the period of 6 calendar months preceding application filing, three times the living minimum for an individual or persons assessed jointly with the applicant under the law governing the living minimum and subsistence minimum and who is not represented by another lawyer or a person referred to in s. 2 (2) a) in the matter in which the applicant is applying for the provision of legal consultation shall have the right to have a lawyer appointed by the Bar for the provision of legal consultation. Where there are reasons worthy of special consideration, fulfilment of the conditions for the average monthly income may be waived.

(2) Legal consultation shall be provided to one applicant as a minimum of 30 minutes and up to 120 minutes of legal consultation for each calendar year; every commenced 30 minutes of legal consultation shall be included in the total annual time limit.

(3) An application for appointment of a lawyer for the provision of legal consultation may be filed only on a form. In addition to general elements stipulated by the Code of Administrative Procedure, an application shall include

(6) The Bar shall appoint a lawyer to provide legal consultation to an applicant who has demonstrated fulfilment of the statutory requirements and has paid the fee under (5) without undue delay. The decision is not made in writing.

(7) Where the Bar does not grant the application, it shall issue a decision to that end.

^{7c)} For example s. 30 (2) of the Civil Procedure Code, s. 35 (8) of the Rules of Administrative Justice, s. 33 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

(Editorial note: Now s. 35 (8) of the Rules of Administrative Justice.)

Section 18b

(1) Upon a motion of the operator of facilities for detention of aliens under the law governing the stay of aliens in the territory of the Czech Republic or a reception centre under the law on asylum, the Bar shall appoint a lawyer to provide a one-off legal consultation to an undetermined number of individuals placed in such facilities; s. 18a (3) b) and s. 18a (6) shall apply by analogy.

(2) A motion under (1) may be filed only a form the model of which is provided by the Ministry of Justice.

Section 18c

(1) An applicant whose income and property circumstances justify it and who is not represented by another lawyer or a person referred to in s. 2 (2) a) in the matter in which the applicant is applying for the provision of a legal service shall have the right to have a lawyer appointed by the Bar for the provision of a legal service. A lawyer may be appointed for an applicant only once in the same matter; this shall not apply where an earlier appointed lawyer refuses to provide legal services due to reasons listed in s. 19 or in the event of occurrence of situation referred to in s. 20 (2).

(2) An application for the appointment of a lawyer to provide a legal service may only be filed on a form. In addition to general elements stipulated by the Code of Administrative Procedure, an application shall include

a) a description of the matter in which the legal service is to be provided, and

b) a statement by the applicant that he is not represented by another lawyer or a person referred to in s. 2 (2) a) in the matter in which the applicant is requesting the legal service.

(3) Where it is not the case of provision of a legal service at the expense of the State under s. 23 (3), the applicant is to prove, in his application under (2), that he has unsuccessfully attempted to secure provision of a legal service through at least two lawyers contacted.

(4) The application shall be accompanied by documents with the amount of income of the applicant and persons assessed jointly with the applicant for a period of 6 calendar months preceding application filing as well as documents about his property circumstances. Details of the application elements including a model application form and the manner of proving the applicant's income and property circumstances as well as the scope of information applicants are to provide the Bar with shall be stipulated by a decree of the Ministry of Justice.

(5) The Bar shall appoint a lawyer to provide a legal service to an applicant who has demonstrated fulfilment of the statutory requirements without undue delay. The Bar shall not grant the application in the case of misuse of the right or in the case of manifestly unfounded exercise of or impediment of the right.

(6) In its decision on the appointment of a lawyer, the Bar shall define the matter in which the lawyer is to provide legal services as well as the scope of such services. In its decision on the appointment of a lawyer, the Bar may also stipulate additional conditions of provision of legal services. The lawyer appointed by the Bar is to provide the applicant with legal services under the conditions stipulated by the Bar. This shall not apply where there are reasons for refusal of provision of legal services referred to in s. 19 or in the case of misuse of the right, manifestly unfounded exercise of or impediment of the right or situation referred to in s. (20) (2); in such cases, the lawyer shall notify the applicant and the Bar in writing of the reasons for not providing legal services. Appointment of a lawyer by the Bar shall not replace power of attorney required by special legislation for the defence of the individual for whom the lawyer has been appointed in criminal proceedings or for his representation in other proceedings.

(7) The Bar shall cancel appointment of a lawyer where it is found during provision of legal services by the lawyer in the matter in question that the income and property circumstances of the client had not justify the provision of legal services. The Bar shall also cancel appointment of a lawyer where it is found during provision of legal services by the lawyer in the matter in question that the income and property circumstances of the client have changed in such a way that they no longer justify provision of legal services; the Bar shall cancel appointment of a lawyer as at the moment of change in such circumstances. Unless the lawyer agrees with the client otherwise or unless the client takes another measure, the lawyer shall, for 15 days from the date of cancellation of its appointment for the provision of legal services, undertake all urgent acts so as to avoid prejudice of the client's rights or legitimate interests. This shall not apply where the client informs the lawyer in writing that he does not insist on the fulfilment of this obligation.

(8) From the date of the Bar's cancellation of the lawyer appointment becoming effective, the lawyer shall be entitled to the payment of his fee for the provision of a legal service from the client in accordance with the law governing non-contractual remuneration.

(9) Where the applicant's income and property circumstances change during provision of legal services, he shall notify the Bar without undue delay.

Section 18d

(1) For the purposes of provision of legal consultations under s. 18a and provision of legal services under s. 18c, the Bar shall maintain a list of applicants. This list is not public. The applicant list includes identification data of applicants for legal aid, contact details provided in the applications, information necessary for the assessment of entitlement, and information to what extent legal aid has been provided. Applicants' data are stored for 3 years after termination of provision of a legal service subject to appointment.

(2) For the purposes of lawyer appointment, the Bar shall maintain a list of lawyers who have expressed their consent with provision of legal services under ss. 18a–18c; in appointing a lawyer for such provision of legal services, the Bar shall ensure that lawyers are appointed evenly, also with regard to the character and complexity of the matter in which legal services are to be provided and to possible costs the appointed lawyer may incur in connection with provision of legal services. Where no lawyer from this list can be appointed, the Bar shall appoint a lawyer from the list maintained under s. 4.

(3) Lawyer's obligation in the provision of a legal service under ss. 18–18c shall be stipulated by the professional rules.

Section 19

(1) A lawyer shall be obliged to refuse to provide legal services if

- c) he possesses information on another or earlier client which may bear unlawful benefits for the person applying for the provision of legal services,
- d) he, or a person close to him, has participated in the proceedings, or
- e) the interests of the person requesting legal services are contrary to the interests of the lawyer or a person close to the lawyer.

(2) Participation in the proceedings under (1) d) shall not mean the provision of legal services by the lawyer or persons under s. 2 (2).

Section 20

(2) A lawyer shall be entitled to withdraw from the contract to provide legal services, or to apply for the cancellation of appointment or to request the Bar to appoint another lawyer if the fiduciary relationship between him and his client has been impaired, or if the client fails to cooperate. The lawyer shall be entitled to take these steps where his client insists that the lawyer follow his orders although the client has been informed that such orders are contrary to the law or to professional rules.

(3) A lawyer shall be entitled to withdraw from the contract to provide legal services if his client fails to advance a reasonable portion of the fee for the provision of legal services although the lawyer has so requested.

(4) The client shall be entitled to withdraw from the contract to provide legal services at any time without stating reasons.

(5) The notice period may be arranged only for cases of the withdrawal from the contract to provide legal services by the lawyer under (2) (first sentence) or by the client; the notice period may not exceed three months.

(6) Unless a lawyer and his client agree otherwise, or the client takes another measure, the lawyer shall be obliged, within 15 days after the contract to provide legal services ceased to exist due to the withdrawal under subsections (1) to (5) or other reasons, to take all necessary actions not to cause harm to his client's rights or legitimate interests. This rule does not apply if the client notifies his lawyer that he does not insist on the fulfilment of that duty.

(1) A lawyer shall be obliged to preserve professional secrecy regarding any facts known to him in connection with his provision of legal services.

(2) A lawyer's duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) may be waived only by his client, and, after the client's death or termination of existence, his successor; should there be more than one legal successor the consent of all legal successors shall be necessary to waive the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure). Waiver by the client or his legal successor(s) of a lawyer's duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) must be in writing and must be addressed to the lawyer; it may be possible for a waiver to be made orally to be recorded in the transcript at the court hearing. A lawyer shall be obliged to observe the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) even after the waiver if the circumstances appear to suggest that the waiver was made under coercion or duress.

(3) A lawyer shall not owe the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) against a person he authorises to pursue individual actions within legal services if this person himself is obliged to observe the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure).

(4) A lawyer shall not be bound by the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) to the extent necessary for proceedings before courts or other bodies if the cause is a dispute between the lawyer and his client or client's legal successor; the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) shall not be binding on the lawyer in proceedings under s. 55, in proceedings against a decision of the Bar, or in proceedings concerning a cassation complaint against the judicial decision on that petition under special legislation^{8a)}, and proceedings concerning

(6) A lawyer may not rely on the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) in disciplinary proceedings or against another lawyer designated by the Chair of the Supervisory Council to prepare investigation of whether a disciplinary transgression has been committed (s. 33 (3)). A lawyer may not rely on the duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) when he fulfils duties under special legislation against the legalization of proceeds of crime, or against a Bar representative performing acts under subsection (10). A lawyer may not rely on the duty of professional secrecy when providing the tax authority with information in connection to fulfilling his duty imposed on a lawyer in the Tax Code as an obliged person under Act on Measures Against the Legalization of Crime Proceeds and Terrorism Funding.

(7) The duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) shall not be to the prejudice of the statutory duty to prevent commitment of a crime¹⁰⁾.

(8) The duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure) shall exist after the termination of a respective lawyer's Bar membership and striking his name off the Register of Lawyers.

(9) The duty of professional secrecy (non-disclosure), to the extent stipulated under (1) to (8), shall apply to

a) employees of a lawyer or Company or Foreign Company, as well as other persons sharing with the lawyer or the Company or the Foreign Company the provision of legal services, and

(4) If a lawyer practising law as a sole lawyer has had his membership in the Bar terminated and his name struck off the Register of Lawyers the Bar shall appoint another lawyer to be his successor, or, it shall take appropriate measures to protect the rights and legally protected interests of his clients; the appointed successor shall notify the clients of any measures taken in writing and without delay. If circumstances of the case request so, the Bar may appoint several lawyers to be successors to the lawyer struck off the Register of Lawyers. Subsections (2) and (3) regulating the passing of rights and duties from the substituted lawyer to his substitute shall apply by analogy to the passing of rights and duties from the lawyer struck off the Register of Lawyers to his successor.

TITLE FOUR DISCIPLINARY LIABILITY AND DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS

Section 32

(1) Lawyers and legal trainees shall be subject to disciplinary liability for a disciplinary transgression.

(5) If there has been a less serious breach of duties the imposition of a disciplinary measure on a lawyer or legal trainee may be waived should the hearing itself of the disciplinary transgression be considered to be sufficient. A disciplinary measure may also be waived where the disciplinary accused enters into a written agreement with the injured party proving removal of consequences of breach of obligations by the disciplinary accused in the event such a decision may be considered sufficient with regard to the circumstances of the case.

(6) Fines shall be considered revenue for the Bar.

(7) The disciplinary measures of withdrawal of the book of authenticity of signature statements and a temporary ban on lawyer's activities under s. 56a may be imposed separately or in addition to another disciplinary measure.

(8) Provisions of the Criminal Code governing aggregated and cumulative punishment and imposition of a joint punishment for continuation in a criminal offence shall apply by analogy to imposition of a disciplinary measure.

(5) The disciplinary respondent shall have the right to express himself concerning all facts he has been accused of; he has the right to defend himself and to propose evidence to be produced.

(6) In disciplinary proceedings on a disciplinary transgression, the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Code regarding means to ensure the purpose and performance of proceedings shall apply by analogy. Procedural fines shall be considered revenue for the Bar.

Section 33a

(1) Costs of disciplinary proceedings incurred by a party to the proceedings shall be borne by that party. The Bar shall bear costs relating to the activities of the disciplinary and appellate panels, the costs of an interpreter, and costs with respect to production of the evidence.

(2) If the Disciplinary Panel declares in its decision closing the disciplinary proceedings that the disciplinary respondent has committed the disciplinary transgression, it shall also bind the respondent in the decision to cover the costs of the disciplinary proceedings borne by the Bar under (1) as a lump-sum set as a reasonable amount by the professional rules.

(3) The Bar shall pay for the cash expenditures of witnesses and their loss of earnings properly substantiated. Such claim should be filed with the Bar within three days of the examination date or otherwise it will expire; witnesses must be notified of this fact.

(4) The covering of cash expenditures and fees of experts and interpreters shall be governed by special legislation^{13a)}.

Section 34

(1) The facts and the law at the time when the disciplinary transgression was committed shall be considered relevant for the disciplinary decision; later legislation shall be used if it is more favourable to the disciplinary respondent.

(2) A decision, in writing, closing the disciplinary proceedings must contain the statement, reasoning and notice of an available legal remedy and must be served on all participants; in cases provided under 33a (2), the written decision shall also contain a statement imposing the duty to cover the costs of disciplinary proceedings.

(3) A served decision closing the disciplinary proceedings, against which there is no appeal, shall be legally effective and enforceable unless the case falls under (4). All other decisions shall become legally effective upon their promulgation; should there be no promulgation prescribed by the Disciplinary Code the legal effect shall commence upon receipt of the decision.

(4) If a fine has been imposed as a disciplinary measure, it should be paid within 15 days of the legal effect of a decision unless the decision allows for a longer time-limit or for payment in instalments. The decision imposing this disciplinary measure shall be enforceable as soon as the time-limit expires.

(5) Provisions under (4) shall apply by analogy with respect to a decision imposing the duty to cover the costs of proceedings.

Section 34a

(3) A disciplinary order shall have the nature of decision through which the Disciplinary Panel expresses that the disciplinary respondent has committed a disciplinary transgression. The legal effect of promulgation of the decision by the Disciplinary Panel shall commence upon the service of the written disciplinary order on the disciplinary respondent.

Section 34b

(1) A written disciplinary order shall contain a statement on the merits, a statement imposing the duty to cover the costs of disciplinary proceedings (s. 33a (2)), and notification that a protest may be submitted, including a notice that should the respondent fail to file the protest then a hearing of the Disciplinary Panel to consider the case shall not be ordered (s. 34d (1)).

(2) A written disciplinary order shall be served on the disciplinary respondent and petitioner; where the respondent has a representative or guardian (s. 33 (4)) the written disciplinary order shall be served on the representative or guardian respectively.

Section 34c

(1) A disciplinary respondent, petitioner or representative or guardian of the respondent (hereinafter referred to as “entitled person”) may submit a protest against a disciplinary order; the protest should be submitted within 15 days of the service of the written disciplinary order. The time-limit for filing the protest by the respondent’s representative or guardian shall terminate on the same date as applicable to the disciplinary respondent.

(2) An entitled person may expressly waive his right to file a protest upon being served the written disciplinary order.

Section 34d

(1) If a protest has been submitted by an entitled person within the time-limit under s. 34c (1) the disciplinary order shall be cancelled and the Chair of the Disciplinary Panel shall order a hearing to consider the case; the Panel in its hearing shall be bound neither by the legal qualification nor the type or level of the disciplinary measure imposed by the disciplinary order.

(2) Should none of the entitled persons submit the protest within the time-limit under s. 34c (1) the disciplinary order shall become legally effective and enforceable on the day following the last day of the time-limit. If all entitled persons have expressly waived their right to protest (s. 34c (2)) before the time-limit under s. 34c (1) expires, the disciplinary order shall become legally effective and enforceable on the day following the day when the Disciplinary Panel received such waiver from the last of all the entitled persons.

Section 34e

If a disciplinary order has been issued the disciplinary petitioner may withdraw the petition at any time until the written disciplinary order is served on any of the entitled persons; a withdrawal of the disciplinary petition shall quash the order and the disciplinary proceeding shall be discontinued.

Section 35

(1) An appeal shall lie against the decision of the Disciplinary Panel closing disciplinary proceedings, and may be lodged by a participant in the proceedings within fifteen days of the service of the written decision; the appeal shall have a suspensory effect. The first sentence shall not apply if the Disciplinary Panel has issued its decision by means of a disciplinary order.

(2) The appeal shall be decided by a three-member panel established from amongst the members of the Appellate Disciplinary Panel (hereinafter referred to as “Appellate Panel”).

(3) In appellate proceedings, the Appellate Panel of the Bar shall quash the decision, or dismiss the appeal and affirm the decision or dismiss the appeal. If the Appellate Panel quashes the decision it shall decide on the merits, or return the case to the Disciplinary Panel for further proceedings and a decision; in the latter case, the Disciplinary Panel shall be bound by the legal opinion of the Appellate Panel.

The decision may not be executed after a period longer than six months has lapsed from the date of its legal effect.

(3) A decision to impose the disciplinary measure of a temporary ban on practising the legal profession or a temporary ban on practising lawyer’s activity shall be executed on the date of expiry of the time of the ban stated in the decision. The time shall start to run on the date of the legal effect of the decision; if the legal effect has been deferred the running of time shall be suspended.

(4) A decision to impose the disciplinary measure of a fine shall be executed on the date of its payment to the Bar in the amount stated in the decision; if the fine should be paid in instalments the decision shall be executed on the date of the payment of the last instalment. The legally effective decision on the imposition of a fine shall be the basis for the enforcement of the decision and the enforcement order under special legislation¹⁴⁾. Should the fine be paid in instalments the Bar shall be entitled to file a petition for the execution of the decision if any of the instalments are not paid in time; in such a case the execution of the decision shall apply to the whole unpaid amount of the fine. Such entitlement may be used by the Bar not later than by the due date of the next instalment.

(5) A decision imposing the disciplinary measure of withdrawal of the book of authenticity of signature statements is executed on the date when the period referred to in the decision elapses. This period commences on the date the book was seized.

(6) A decision imposing the duty to cover the costs of disciplinary proceedings shall be executed on the date of payment to the Bar of the amount of costs (s. 33a (2)). If the duty to cover the costs has not been fulfilled within the time-limit under the Act herein or the time-limit set in the decision, subsection (4) on the execution of a decision imposing a fine shall apply by analogy to the execution of the decision imposing the payment of costs of disciplinary proceedings.

(2) An application for new disciplinary proceedings may be filed only by its participant if new facts or evidence occur which could not have been revealed or produced in the original proceedings and which may, by themselves or in relation to the facts and evidence known earlier, lead to a decision to be more favourable to the disciplinary respondent.

(3) An application for new disciplinary proceedings may be filed within six months of the date when the participant applying for new proceedings became aware of reasons for the new proceedings under (2), or within six months of the date on which he may have relied on the reasons; the application shall not be permissible against any decision other than a decision on the merits.
